The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, December 19th 1898.

The Committee of the Shingling General Chamber of Commerce have passed a resolution, which has been forwarded to Lord CHARLES BERWICK, to the effect that in the opinion of the Committee the interests of both China and the Foreign Powers, having commercial relations with her require that the equality of rights as secured by the existing treaties be strictly safeguarded against any changes of an exclusive or preferential nature, in favour of different nations in any part of the Empire, and further that it is desirable that in order to effect this end a general agreement be entered into between the Powers interested guaranteeing the equality of commercial rights and privileges to all nations alike.

As an expression of opinion in favour of the policy of the open door this resolution will command the support of all Britishers in China and probably of all or nearly all merchants of other nationalities. The Committee has confined itself strictly to the commercial aspect of the question and has not touched it upon its political side, being apparently unconcerned with regard to political spheres of influence so long as an open door for trade is secured. As an international body the Chamber has perhaps not been more than prudent in eschewing political controversy, though it might possibly have safely ventured on some expression of opinion with regard to the measures of internal reform required in China. The Chinese Association, being an exclusively British body, will have less reason than the Chamber of Commerce for reticence in recommending a definite line of policy for adoption. Like the Chamber of Commerce it will naturally favour the policy of the open door, and may think that that can be best secured by a general agreement amongst the Powers, but it would be advisable to go a little further and lay down the lines upon which that agreement should proceed. The disease from which China is suffering is internal, and it can only be cured by a radical reform of the administration. The crucial question is, who is to effect that reform? For the Powers simply to guarantee the integrity of China and then leave her to follow her own devices would be equivalent to guaranteeing the continuance of barbarism, and foreign life and property in the interior would become even more unsafe than they have been hitherto, for if the Peking Government were satisfied that no reprisals need be exacted in the event of the murder of Mr. Hearn, of the police, the boy was eventually recovered from a theatre in Singapore.

A interesting case is reported from Bangkok. A Chinese, of that place, had given to Captain the Chinese, who was kidnapped and sent back to Bangkok in a theatrical troupe. He was recognized, but before he could be rescued he was spirited away to Singapore. By the action of Mr. Hearn, of the police, the boy was eventually recovered from a theatre in Singapore.

A salvage party under the direction of Mr. Montalbano, the Manager of the Hongkong Dock Company, was sent to Weihaiwei on the 1st December for Laibau in the Concessions, to bring up the cargo of the steamer "Mercury" with pumps and other necessary gear, to render assistance to the a.s. Abora, which had been wrecked near Laibau while on a voyage to Port Arthur, India with the Imperial Government.

The dredger "St. Enoch," which has been stationed at Malacca, arrived at Singapore on the 2nd December.

The Chinese, who had been captured by the Chinese, were released.
